MOTHER AND LITTLE DAUGHTER
SPEND 8 DAYS ON A U BOAT.

When the Norwegian barque Thor II. was sunk by a German submarine the skipper, Captain Isak Jacobsen, and his wife and six-year-old daughter, (who are seen above) were compelled to go on board the pirate craft. They spent eight days on the vessel, during which time it sank two British steamers, one without any warning, and a British trawler. A brass band played patriotic airs when the submarine arrived at the German port where the three were released.

NAVAL MYSTERY: FOR WHAT DID
HE WIN THE V.C.?

Commander Gordon Campbell, the mystery man of the Navy. At the beginning of the war he was in command of an old destroyer, but the chances of his being still there are absolutely nil, as a year ago he was promoted to his present rank over the heads of nearly 700 senior lieutenant-commanders, while it has also been officially announced that he has won both the V.C. and the D.S.O. But for what deeds not a hint has been dropped. The silent Navy, indeed!—(Russell.)

AIR SUPREMACY STILL IN DOUBT.

Minister Hopes We Shall Establish Superiority.

WHERE BRITISH SCORE.

"We are satisfied for the moment with our best type of flying machines in use at the front, but there are machines still in use not up to this standard. These are being replaced as rapidly as possible."

This important announcement was made by Mr. Ian Macpherson, the Under-Secretary for War, in the House of Commons last night.

The average air casualties per week for the last six weeks had, he stated, been as follows:—

Killed .....	7.6
Wounded .....	8.3
Missing .....	4.2

The situation in the air on the British front in France was undecided, as during the winter months, when flying was much interfered with by the short days and the weather, all the belligerents had endeavoured to increase and improve their air services.

With the advent of good weather we must expect severe opposition before achieving such a definite superiority as would enable us to put the enemy entirely on the defensive. In one respect we have had the superiority over the Germans all through the war—viz., in the work performed by the Flying Corps.

The Germans had never been able to do search work or stop our own men from doing it.

The situation was very similar to that which obtained in the same period last year, when the German forces on the western front, rested for the winter, put up a serious opposition, and it was only after severe fighting, both before Verdun and in front of our lines, that a flying superiority was established.

Even then, it was only by continuous fighting behind the lines that it was possible to keep the air behind our lines clear of the enemy.

At the opening of last year's campaign the main concentration of the enemy was before Verdun. This year it appeared to be in front of the British forces—more probably not unconnected with the German retirement.

MASTERY OF THE AIR.

There had not at any time or on any side in the western front been a situation which could properly be described as "mastery of the air," and when he replied last week to a supplementary question on the subject, he hoped the House would realise that he did not wish either to overstate or understate the actual position.

Reinforcements were now being dispatched almost continuously to our front, and there was every reason to believe we would assert our superiority this year as last year. (Cheers.)

Arising out of Mr. Macpherson's reply on the subject of air casualties, Mr. Billing asked Mr. Macpherson whether he could explain what the figures given meant.

Mr. Macpherson regretted his inability to do so, stating he had read the answer as supplied to him.

Mr. Pemberton Billing gave notice that he would raise the whole question of the air service on the motion for the adjournment.

Mr. Bonar Law announced that a new Vote of Credit would be taken to-morrow.

Another fifteen flying officers are reported killed, wounded or missing in the War Office casualty list published yesterday.

ADRIET FOR THREE DAYS.

Unspeakeable Hardships of Victims of Torpedoed Ship.

Details of the sinking of the Norwegian steamship Dalmata by a German submarine were given yesterday by the wife of the captain.

The ship sank eighteen minutes after the first shot was fired. The captain's wife and the officers and crew were huddled into two small open boats and abandoned in mid-Atlantic.

After three days of unspeakeable hardships, during which a member of the crew died of exposure and three were frostbitten, the boats were picked up by the Danish schooner Ellen Beyron.

The lieutenant in command of the submarine expressed regret that he was obliged to sink the ship "fifty miles from the nearest land."

In perpetrating this ruthless outrage the German submarine commander was obeying the definite instructions of his Government, then never was the writing on the wall more plain. It is possible that he was merely following his own inclination.

U Boat Stranded.—A German submarine has stranded near Hellevoetsluis, seventeen miles west-south-west of Rotterdam, says a Wireless Press message. The crew of fifteen has been disembarked.

TEASHOP PROBLEM.

Is It Illegal to Carry Away an Unused Sugar Ration?

GIRL ACCUSED OF THEFT.

Can a teashop customer who appropriates the sugar supplied with a cup of tea instead of using it be prosecuted for theft?

This interesting question is raised by the accusation made against a girl typist that she was stealing sugar in circumstances such as these.

The incident occurred in a well-known teashop in the City.

The girl contended that she was taking only what belonged to her.

She did not use the sugar in her tea. She was boarding herself, but found it difficult to obtain any sugar without making larger purchases than she could afford.

The manageresses of three different teashops seen by The Daily Mirror yesterday all agreed that the girl's contention was a perfectly valid one.

"The price of the cup of tea includes milk and the sugar to sweeten it," said one. "Obviously the customer can do what he or she pleases with the sugar supplied, as the little paper baskets contain only sufficient for one cup of tea."

The announcement that the question of purchasing other goods when sugar is purchased is to be dealt with in an order to be issued shortly is welcomed by housewives.

SECRETS IN A TRUNK.

Bernstorff's Voyage Interrupted by a Dramatic Incident.

Have the British secured possession of German secret papers? When the steamship Frederick VII., carrying home Count von Bernstorff, the notorious German Ambassador to the United States, arrived at Halifax (Nova Scotia) the ship was searched by the British officials. A sealed trunk labelled "Stockholm" came under suspicion. It was "owned" by a Swedish merchant, who said it contained diplomatic correspondence and papers, and that he was acting for the Swedish Consul-General. It was observed that one of the Consular seals was broken. The officials deduced that the

"THE DAILY MIRROR."

Readers of "The Daily Mirror" are urged to give their newsgroup a definite order for the paper. Owing to the Government restriction of paper supplies it may be necessary soon to end the trade custom of allowing newsgroups credit for unsold newspapers. In that event the newsgroup will be unable to supply casual buyers. To avoid the chance of not getting your "Daily Mirror" give your newsgroup a specific order for it.

box had been opened between New York and Halifax, and at once suspected that the trunk might contain more than purely Swedish diplomatic correspondence.

The trunk was therefore held. Communications were opened with the Swedish Minister. He was asked to give an assurance that the trunk contained only official correspondence, and to agree to the trunk being opened in the presence of a British official. He declined to give that assurance, and the trunk was taken from the vessel. It is now in the hands of the British authorities.

WHITEHALL HUMOUR.

"Micawber" and "Lloyd George" Labels to Classify Letters.

An amusing story was told by the Rev. J. H. Shakespeare at the annual council of the Evangelical Free Churches yesterday.

While visiting a Government office recently, he said, he noticed three labels over a desk which contained piles of letters.

The labels were inscribed "Queen Anne," "Micawber" and "Lloyd George." (Laughter.) Upon inquiry, he was informed that the "Queen Anne" label indicated a pile of letters that were dead and done with. (Laughter.) "Micawber" denoted a pile of letters waiting for something to turn up; while the "Lloyd George" label indicated a pile of letters that had been dealt with immediately or something would happen. (Laughter and applause.)

SUCCESS DUE TO ENGLISH.

"I owe my success in this world to having learnt the English language and adopted the English business methods."

Thus said the late Mr. Charles Jean Moss, Ferncroft-avenue, Hampstead, formerly managing director of the Maypole Dairy Company, whose will has just been proved at £144,158.

The testator left part of his estate to the Body of the Bourgeoisie of Fribourg, his native town, for sending boys of Swiss nationality to England to learn the English language and business methods.

Mr. Asquith will to-day ask Mr. Bonar Law whether he will give an early date for him to make a statement on the Dardanelles Report.

PREMIER'S APPEAL.

Most Impressive Speech of His Career to Cotton Deputation.

TO-NIGHT'S GREAT DEBATE.

"The Prime Minister held out no hope whatever of the Government altering their decision. He further held out no hope of a compromise."

This statement was made by a member of a Lancashire deputation which saw Mr. Lloyd George yesterday and asked him to withdraw the increased Indian import duty on cotton.

To-night there will be a critical debate in the House of Commons on the question.

Mr. Lloyd George told the deputation yesterday that the increased duty was the considered policy of the Government, and he appealed to Lancashire to put up with a burden that was unavoidable.

Members of the deputation expressed the view that the Premier made out a strong case.

One member of the deputation stated that Mr. Lloyd George delivered one of the most impressive speeches of his career.

The Lancashire M.P.s met at the House last night and agreed to move an amendment to the Government's motion to-night to the effect that the increased import duty should be balanced by a countervailing Excise duty.

MYSTERY CREDIT VOTE.

Mr. Bonar Law, answering Mr. McKenna, said the Government found it necessary to introduce a further Vote of Credit for the present financial year.

This was due to reasons which could not have been foreseen, and they proposed to take the Vote to-morrow.

DUCHESS OF CONNAUGHT.

"Slight Improvement in Her Condition Not Maintained."

The following bulletin was issued last night from Clarence House concerning the condition of the Duchess of Connaught:—

"The Duchess of Connaught noted this morning in the condition of H.R.H. the Duchess of Connaught has not been maintained."

Yesterday morning's bulletin stated:—

"During the first half of the night the condition of Her Highness continued grave."

"Since midnight there has been some quiet sleep and the fever has diminished, and there is a slight alleviation in the anxiety of the outlook."

HOUSE FULL OF FOOD.

51lb. of Sugar and 33lb. of Tea Found in Alleged Thief's Home.

When Alfred William Smith, tea blender, Navarino Grove, Hackney, was remanded at Tower Bridge Police Court yesterday, on a charge of stealing from the Army Canteens Committee, a detective made a remarkable statement as to the quantity of food he found.

When prisoner's house was searched the following articles were discovered: 51lb. of sugar, 33lb. of tea, seventeen tins of salmon, nineteen packets of chocolate, twenty tins of cocoa, forty-six packets of custard powder, ten packets of tobacco, twenty packets of cigarettes, thirty-six packets of soup tablets, pickles, sauces, meat extract, lunch longue, almonds and currants.

Charged at Croydon yesterday for an alleged corrupt gift to Joseph H. Earp, a leading viewer at the Commercial road branch of the Royal Army Clothing Department, William L. Pawson, managing director of a firm of Halifax manufacturers, was fined £25 and £10 10s. costs.

It was alleged that Messrs. Pawson secured a contract for 20,000 shirts as the result of Earp's influence, and that the firm made his wife a present.

For obtaining the gift Earp was fined £25.

£7,500,000 ON DOGS' FOOD

Complaint That Women's Pets Are a Nuisance and Useless.

A fresh campaign against poor Fido has broken out. Experts estimate that our canine friends consume 300,000 tons of food a year, and the subject is to be discussed at a meeting of the Kensington Council to-day, when a resolution will be proposed in favour of calling the attention of the Food Controller to the matter.

The motion urges that these dogs "serve no useful purpose, and are an utter and superfluous luxury."

A recent estimate of dog licences taken out in Great Britain was £50,000 on one day a year.

On each the Chancellor of the Exchequer gets 7s. 6d. Nevertheless, at an average food cost of £4 per annum, we spend £7,500,000 on food on dogs alone.

I should be very sorry if I had to subsist on my dogs' rations, consisting as they do of a piece of meat and a rough biscuit mixed with horse-flesh," confessed Lady Kathleen Pilkington, a distinguished dog-fancier, to The Daily Mirror.

THE PRINCE IN LONDON.

The Prince of Wales and the Duke of Teck have arrived at Buckingham Palace.

ENEMY PRINCES, 'NOT TRAITOR PEERS.'

Lord Lansdowne Says Accusation Is Absurd.

"A GREAT DISGRACE."

"Unprecedented circumstances justified an unprecedented measure."

This was the statement made by the Lord Chancellor in the House of Lords yesterday, when moving the second reading of the Bill to deprive enemy peers and princes of British titles and dignities.

Lord Courtney moved that the Bill be read that day six months hence.

The Marquis of Lansdowne, while he would be sorry to associate himself with Lord Courtney in abruptly terminating the career of the Duke of Cumberland, did not seem to him to require examination that it had yet received.

It was aimed, he said, at three personages—the Duke of Albany (great-grandson of the late Queen Victoria), the Duke of Cumberland, and Prince Albert Frederick of Schleswig-Holstein also a grandson of Queen Victoria), whose brother lost his eyesight through illness contracted during the South African War.

To accuse either of the three as traitors was absurd, and nothing had been done by them that would not have been done by any of their lordships in a similar position.

The Duke of Albany was also Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha and reigning prince of a German State. The Duke of Cumberland did not seem to him to owe allegiance to the Sovereign of this country.

Prince Albert of Schleswig-Holstein was an officer in the German Army, and he did not see how they could greatly interfere with him.

The step proposed would be no punishment.

He was told there were sixteen German dukes who wore the Order of the Bath.

Lord Curzon insisted that the sentiments of the man in the street, of which the Marquis of Lansdowne spoke with some contempt, was a factor which had to be taken into consideration, and he rightly felt that the highest British titles should not be borne by those who sided with our enemies.

Viscount Galway said it would be a great disgrace if those who were fighting against this country were to be allowed to continue to bear British titles.

After further discussion Lord Curzon undertook that the measure should be referred to a small select Committee, who would report before Easter.

Lord Courtney withdrew his motion, and the second reading was agreed to.

"HIS OBLIGATIONS."

Service Chiefs' Authority for Keeping Persons to Agreement.

"There was no element of compulsion," said Sir George Cave (Home Secretary) in the course of the debate on the report of the Ministry of National Service Bill, but the Director General would have authority to hold a man who volunteered to his honourable obligations.

He was replying to an amendment (afterwards withdrawn) the object of which was to deprive the Director General of powers under the Defence of the Realm Act.

Sir G. Cave accepted an amendment by Mr. Pringle proposing the addition of words "providing that no penalty should be imposed for any breach of a voluntary agreement made by a person with the Director-General."

Mr. Hazleton's motion to appoint a Minister with the title of Director of National Service for Ireland was rejected by 168 to sixty-nine.

Mr. Landon said the organisation to which he belonged would do everything in its power to prevent Irish labour enrolling under the National Service scheme.

FARM PRODUCE COMMANDEERED.

A new regulation under the Defence of the Realm gives power "to take possession of any machinery, implements of husbandry or plant (other than machinery, implements or plant in the possession or under the control of a dealer or manufacturer) or any farm produce, stock, or animals which, in the opinion of the Board of Agriculture, are required for the cultivation of land or the increase of the food supply of the country."

BREAD YOU MUST NOT BAKE.

Some doubt, says an official announcement by the Food Controller, appears to exist in the minds of certain bakers as to the interpretation of the words in the Bread Order—"a one-piece oven bottom loaf."

It is, therefore, desirable to state that any bread other than that which has hitherto been understood in the trade to be "a one-piece oven bottom loaf" is not permitted.

French bread and Vienna bread are prohibited.

GERMANS ABANDON 3½ MILES OF MAIN DEFENCES

Gunfire Drives Foe From Forward Crest of the Bapaume Ridge—Grevillers Taken.

BRITISH PUSH REARGUARDS BACK ONE MILE

Progress Also Made by Our Men on a Mile Front East and North-East of Gommecourt.

BRITISH OFFICIAL.

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, Tuesday.

9.18 P.M.—In consequence of our bombardment of his positions yesterday the enemy has abandoned his main defences system along the forward crest of the ridge west of Bapaume, on a front of three and a half miles.

During the day our advancing troops have driven back the enemy's rearguards in this area to a depth of a mile, and have occupied the village of Grevillers and Loupart Wood.

We have also made further progress east and north-east of Gommecourt on a front of about a mile.

Hostile raids were repulsed during the night in the neighbourhood of Neuville St. Vaast, Souchez and Armentières. In each case the enemy failed to reach our trenches. Another hostile raiding party succeeded in reaching our trenches south-west of Neuve Chapelle. A few of our men are missing.

Our artillery has carried out effective bombardments of the enemy's positions on the Somme and east of Neuville St. Vaast.

'IMPORTANT NEWS SHOULD BE AVAILABLE TO-DAY.'

British Advance Right Through Strong German Positions in Loupart Wood.

GREAT ACTIVITY.

WAR CORRESPONDENTS' HEADQUARTERS, France, Tuesday.—Following upon a very heavy bombardment, which was sustained throughout yesterday by our guns, and the steady pressure of our troops, the enemy has been compelled to resume his backward movement.

Under cover of the very hazy weather which prevailed throughout last night and this morning, the Germans have been pushed back along a front of between 4,000 and 5,000 yards and to a depth which it is, thus far, impossible to estimate, since the movement may even still be in progress.

Our troops advanced right through the series of strong positions which the enemy had prepared in the Loupart Wood.

We have also seized the village of Grevillers. It is all too early as yet to get anything like a detailed account of what has been happening during the past twenty-four hours, but great activity prevails at the points where the Germans have been forced back.

The weather to-night is clearer and altogether finer, and there should be important news available by to-morrow.—Reuter's Special Service.

"TOOK 570 PRISONERS."

GERMAN OFFICIAL.

Front of Prince Leopold of Bavaria.—During clear weather conditions several sectors were subjected to Russian artillery fire, which was returned energetically.

To the north of the Zloczow-Tarnopol Railway our thrusting troops carried out an operation with caution and cleverness, during which three officers and 320 Russians were taken prisoners and thirteen machine guns captured.

Our advances into the Russian lines at Brzezany and on the Narajovka also resulted in the capture of prisoners and booty.—Admiralty per Wireless Press.

Last night's communiqué stated that an advance on the Narajovka resulted in the capture of 250 prisoners.

HUN BOMBS ON STATION.

GERMAN OFFICIAL.

Macedonian Front.—Between Ochrida and Lake Prespa German battalions attacked our positions. They were repulsed. Our air squadrons secured hits by bomb attacks. On the railway station of Vertekop, south-east of Voden, serious fires could be observed as a result of these attacks.—Admiralty per Wireless Press.

FOE'S VAIN EFFORTS TO WIN BACK POSITIONS.

French Hold All Their Gains in Champagne.

FRENCH OFFICIAL.

Between the Aisne and the Aisne our detachments towards the end of the day yesterday carried out three coups de main against the German trenches which had been wrecked by our fire. Some prisoners were brought back.

During the night the Germans continued the bombardment of Soissons.

On the Crouy road a strong enemy group which was endeavouring to reach our lines was beaten back.

Further eastward another enemy attempt in the region of Beaulieu Chivy failed under our fire.

The artillery struggle was fairly lively in the sector of Moyennes.

West of Maisons de Champagne the Germans yesterday evening launched a violent counter-attack against Hill 185. Our barrage and machine-gun fire stopped the enemy dead.

We maintained all our positions. The number of prisoners taken by us yesterday is 150, including three officers.

On the right bank of the Meuse a coup de main attempted by the enemy against one of our works in the region of Louvemont was easily repulsed with grenades.—Reuter. [Soissons is about sixty miles from Paris.]

GERMANS CLAIM THAT HILL 185 WAS HELD.

"French Took Narrow Stretch of Ground on Slope."

GERMAN OFFICIAL.

To the south of Arras English detachments, after artillery preparations, delivered an advance near Beaurains on a wide front. The attack failed with heavy losses.

To the north of the Aisne French companies advanced against our positions. They were forced by our fire to turn back again before our entanglements.

To the south of Ripont the French again attacked our positions after drum fire. As the result of a stubborn defence, the much-contested Hill 185 was held against superior forces. The capture of a narrow stretch of ground on the south-western slope was paid for by the enemy with sanguinary sacrifices.

Night Communiqué.—There was lively fighting activity on the Ancre, to the south of the Ancre and in the Champagne.

ALEXIEFF WELL AGAIN.

PETROGRAD, Monday.—The health of Major-General Alexieff, of the General Staff of the Russian Armies, is completely restored, after a long illness, and he has resumed his important duties.—Central News.

Our forces have now occupied Grevillers, having made a further advance of a mile on a three and half mile front.—(G. Philip and Son.)

AMERICAN CAPTAINS TO FIRE ON U BOATS.

Mr. Lansing Holds They Have the Right to Shoot in Barred Zone.

NEW YORK, Tuesday.—The correspondent of the World from Washington states that the substance of the memorandum given to Mr. Daniels by Mr. Lansing as the basis of procedure for armed merchantmen is that German submarines, acting under the orders of January 30, may be treated as pirates.

Commanders of crews have the absolute right to fire on any German submarine whenever seen in the barred zone, provided it does not make unmistakable signs of intentions to adhere to cruiser law.

It should be borne in mind that German submarine commanders cannot observe cruiser law without violating the orders of the German Admiralty. The memorandum will not be published textually.—Exchange Telegraph.

NEW YORK, Tuesday.—A telegram from Key West states that a German who was following Mr. Gerard after his arrival there last night from Havana was arrested as a suspected spy.—Central News.

900 SHIPS DEFY U BOATS.

ROME, Tuesday.—It is officially announced that during the past week 493 vessels, aggregating 231,211 tons, arrived in Italian ports, and 464 vessels left, the figures including fishing-boats.

Seven ships were torpedoed, including four steamers, of which three were over 1,500 tons and one under, in addition to three sailing ships under 200 tons.

One steamer and two sailing ships succeeded in escaping from attacks by submarine.—Central News.

GERMANS TO MAKE GREAT EFFORT IN THE WEST?

Falkenhayn Arrives in Belgium from the Eastern Front.

AMSTERDAM, Tuesday.—The Echo Belge learns from an authoritative source that General von Falkenhayn and his staff arrived at Tirlémont on Saturday morning last.

The following official telegram has been received from Berlin:—

"The official Hava report speaks of events on the western front which in France are awaited with the greatest confidence. We also look forward to these events with the greatest confidence."—Reuter.

AMSTERDAM, Tuesday.—Our correspondent reports that Falkenhayn is at present in Belgium in connection with a possible German offensive on the western front.

Great insubordination exists amongst German troops at Namur and Huy, and the prisons there are too small to hold the recalcitrants.—Wireless Press.

HINDENBURG RIDDLE.

ROME, Tuesday.—The intentions of Field-Marshal Hindenburg continue to be shrouded in mystery. In the opinion of Italian military critics, including General Corsi, the famous critic of the Tribune, the only thing certain is that Hindenburg will make one more great effort on the western front and perhaps also on the Italian front.

According to other information, Hindenburg will only attack when and where the Germans are attacked, having more confidence in a counter-offensive.—Central News.

FOE LEAVE MUCH BOOTY.

Cavalry Now Beyond the City—Gunboats Chase Enemy.

BRITISH OFFICIAL.

Telegraphing late at night on the 11th inst. the General Officer Commanding Mesopotamian Expeditionary Force, gives the following details leading up to, and subsequent to, the capture of Bagdad early on the morning of the 11th.

On the evening of the 10th we maintained a close touch with the enemy on both banks of the Tigris south of Bagdad.

During the night the enemy evacuated his entire trench line, whilst we pushed forward in close contact.

Before dawn on the 11th a general advance on both banks was ordered, and at 5.50 a.m. we occupied the railway station, the city being entered shortly afterwards.

Our cavalry pushed forward in pursuit, and after slight resistance occupied Kadhimain, capturing over 100 prisoners and four damaged aeroplanes.

Our gunboats now took up the pursuit.

A WARM WELCOME.

During this recent fighting the fierce gales and blinding dust-storms, lack of water away from the river and the vigour of the pursuit had made operations arduous.

Since the 23rd the Turks have been busy destroying and removing everything of value in Bagdad.

A considerable amount of booty has, nevertheless, fallen into our hands including large quantities of equipment, arms and ammunition. Five hundred Turkish wounded were also abandoned by the enemy.

On the left bank of the Tigris between 200 and 300 Turkish dead were counted on the 10th inst. and 300 prisoners were taken.

On entering the city of Bagdad the local inhabitants gave us a warm welcome.

Slight disturbances occurred in the city consequent upon the Turkish evacuation, but complete order was restored when our troops entered the city.

[Kadhimain is on the Bagdad Railway, on the right bank of the Tigris, and is about two miles beyond the city.]

TURKISH OFFICIAL.

There is no recent news from the Tigris or Persian fronts.

It is understood, however, that the operations are proceeding in accordance with a plan previously decided upon.—Reuter.

"PAINFUL TO THE TURKS."

German Views.—The occupation of Bagdad gives rise in the East to a situation which requires the most earnest attention, military and political.—Frankfurter Zeitung.

An undeniable success, the event must be regretted, but it has not the least influence on the decision of the war, Mesopotamia being a secondary theatre of war. The loss of Bagdad is, nevertheless, painful to the Turks.—Cologne People's Paper.

The British operations in Mesopotamia have been attended with great success. The British flag waves over Bagdad and in all the bazaars of the East will resound the news.—Cologne Gazette.

BABY COLEMAN.

Virol built up his strength

161, Cambridge Road,
Seven Kings, Essex.

Dear Sirs,

My baby seemed to be quite healthy at birth, but being unable to feed him I tried different foods at various times. At first he appeared to be making progress, but after a few months it became evident he was wasting, and I was advised to try Virol. He soon began to pull round, and in a short time made considerable weight and was altogether brighter and happier. This satisfactory progress has continued, thanks to Virol, which has built up his strength, making him a splendidly sturdy little fellow. In view of the gratifying results obtained, I do not hesitate to recommend Virol whenever the question arises of the best alternative food for baby.—Yours truly,
G. C. COLEMAN.

In Measles, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis or Influenza, Virol should be given to children of whatever age. Virol increases their power of resistance and recovery, and strengthens them against dangerous after-effects.

"Luvisca"

IDEAL for present day WEAR

BREEZY, blustery March is often more suggestive of Winter than Spring, but the lengthening days and bursts of bright Spring sunshine turn the thoughts irresistibly to new dress.

"LUVISCA," with its inherent warmth and strength, is par excellence the material for those who value a neat and trim appearance, combined with elegance and comfort. "LUVISCA" is no ordinary imitation silk material with a sheen that will vanish with the first wash. Its beautiful silky lustre is perfectly natural; its strength the result of sound manufacture—British throughout—a perfectly practical commonsense material, with a beauty and daintiness all its own. Since the introduction of "Luvisca" it has won its way to the front rank—the supreme material for blouse wear. "LUVISCA" is obtainable in greater variety both of designs and colourings than ever before, in two widths—30-31 and 37-38 ins.

All trace of ACIDITY gone in a fortnight

Messrs. Savory & Moore strongly recommend Dr. Jenner's Absorbent Lozenges, of which they are the sole manufacturers, as a remedy for all DIGESTIVE DISORDERS arising from ACIDITY, HEARTBURN, FLATULENCE, GIDDINESS, etc. The lozenges are made from a formula of the celebrated Dr. Jenner. They are pleasant to take, quite harmless, and give speedy and permanent relief, even in the most stubborn cases.

TESTIMONY.—"The absorbent Lozenges are excellent. The sample box contained sufficient to remove long-standing acid indigestion. I got a large box and took them regularly for a fortnight, when all trace of Acidity was gone."

"I may say that I never take 'patent medicines,' but Dr. Jenner's name, coupled with that of Savory & Moore, assured me that at any rate I should not be given any harmful drug. I am exceedingly glad that I tried them at last."

Boxes 1/3, 3/- and 5/- of all Chemists.

SAMPLE BOX FOR 2d. POST FREE

A Sample Box of the Lozenges, sufficient for a thorough trial, will be sent on receipt of 2d. in stamps for postage, etc. Mention "Daily Mirror" and address: Savory & Moore, Ltd., Chemists to The King, 143a, New Bond-st., London.

WESTMINSTER AND THE WORLD.

OUR old political divisions, presumed dead on account of "sacred union" in war time, have suddenly raised their heads over the tariff controversy, and to-day's debate in the House of Commons will be like a reminiscence of the good old times, when all seemed to depend upon the facts and figures reeled off by the experts in this case. It is, then, a mistake to suppose that we British will be put off our old habits by such an interlude as the biggest war in history.

We must have potatoes. Never mind about the war. We must have Ireland ever with us. And now too we must have Lancashire with its great stubbornness and orthodoxy over cotton. To restore the old atmosphere, it is a pity that Mr. Fisher is not at once impelled to bring in a new Education Bill on old lines. We should then get that controversy also with the accompanying denominational distinctions and the grieved consciences of the rival sects.

The old atmosphere. . . . And yet not the old atmosphere. Something is changed. What?

Well, mainly the great spaces encircling Westminster and the direction or force of the wide winds enveloping the world outside. Inside, no doubt, the dear old quarrels spring up like weeds in an ill-conditioned air; outside attention is removed from them, so that they sound like a barking of dogs heard so far off as to be hardly perceptible. Not that Lancashire is not roused or Mr. Chamberlain not firm, or deputations not in earnest, or the lobbies not loud with conversation. Step into the big doors, past the big policemen, and you will verify all that. But, since the huge world outside is busy with other things, the dispute is plainly sectional, and the disputants cannot, as before the war, make it widen itself into a matter for the whole nation.

Yet, when all is said, this sudden revelation of a new crisis—like the strike threats and Irish threats of recent or former months—is again disheartening: a set-off, by law of compensation, against the good news from Bagdad. For some, it is "vital"; for others, a "preposterous hubbub." The only danger, afflicting to the mass of people, is that a general election—at this stage—could conceivably, if Mr. Asquith willed, be forced upon the issue. But no solution would result, since at the moment no general election could turn in the mass on anything but the war, and since the Dardanelles Report a change in Government—a return to our old rulers—is unthinkable. The Government must to-day then find a way to meet the combination of Ireland and Lancashire. Westminster must remember the World outside, and bow before its resolution not to be stifled in the stuffy air of debate.

SPRING AND DEATH.

Grief made the young Spring wild, and she threw down her kindling buds, as if she Autumn were. Or they dead leaves; since her delight is down. For whom should she have waked the sullen year? To Phobus was not like these could scale. Nor to himself Narcissus, as to both. Thus Adonias: wan they stand and sere Amid the faint companions of her youth, With dew all turned to tears; odour, to sighing ruth.

Thy spirit's sister, the lorn nightingale Mourns not her mate with such melodious pain; Not so the eagle, who like thee could scale Heaven, and could nourish in the sun's domain. Her mighty youth with morning, doth complain. Searing and round her neck her empty nest, As Albion waits for thee: the curse of Cain. Light on his head who pierced thy innocent breast, And scared the angel soul that was its earthly guest!

—SIRIUS.

A THOUGHT FOR TO-DAY.

We ought everywhere to spare and respect individuality—the soul of the individual—as the root of everything good.—Bichter.

MY FIRST VISIT TO THE STOKEHOLD.

A 'PEN-DRIVER'S' EXPERIENCES IN HIS NEW JOB.

By W. J. STANNARD.

I JOINED up when the war was about a year old as a stoker, after a life, not long, but busy, spent mainly in driving a pen. From clerk to stoker is a vast distance—as I soon found out.

My first day will long linger in memory. The chief stoker had said, "Down the hatchway amidships," but there I found at least four leading to the lower regions. I was just wondering which could lead to No. 2 stokehold when a man, carrying a couple of paint scrapers, came up from the nearest one. "Yus, mate, I'm going down No. 2 dust-to No. 2 stokehold and abruptly left me. I stepped inside. Up above on a grating amid a maze of piping, a flaring oil lamp by his side, a man was examining a water gauge and singing "Tennessee" in a very loud voice. Lower down, sitting on planking before the front of the boiler, which had its casing taken off, two men, with a light between them, were engaged in scraping rust.

MAKING HIM FEEL AT HOME!

They took absolutely no notice of me, which is a way they have all over the service of making a man feel perfectly at home. I listened to two verses of "Tennessee," which I thought very fine, especially the tapping accompaniment. At the end I asked if Petty Officer Smalley was about. They did not look at me, but one shouted in a loud voice, "Georrrge, the new messmate wants

NEW WORK FOR WOMEN.

WHAT WOULD THEY BE LIKE AS BARRISTERS AND SOLICITORS?

NOT A QUESTION OF SEX.

THE ability, or otherwise, to keep a secret depends more upon individuality than sex.

There are many men and women who are constitutionally unable to keep secrets. Tell them one to-day and the world knows it to-morrow.

Yet there are members of both sexes who are just the opposite and could be implicitly trusted with anything.

We forget that each person has a separate individuality, and are apt to generalise according to sex, which does not give us anything like a truthful result.

SECRETS.

OLD, BUT NOT PREJUDICED.

IF women solicitors are likely to defend people merely because they like them, do let us have women in the new calling!

For thus what is so much needed will come about—namely, a little human feeling will be introduced into the heartless machinery of the law.

I am certain, in fact, that the employment of women will have this effect and that is why I, though a lawyer, advocate it. We want in the law much of the practical sense, too, that women would be able to bring to it.

AN OLD LAWYER.
New-square,
Lincoln's Inn.

IF IN FRANCE. . . .

THERE are admirable women barristers in France, as some of your correspondents fail to realise.

If in France, why not in England? Or are Frenchwomen more logical than Englishwomen?

Surely the war ought to give us an admirable opportunity of learning from our neighbours and of advancing. E. F. E.
Thurloe-square, S.W.

SWEET POTATOES.

CANNOT the scarcity of potatoes be met by the import of "sweet" potatoes from our Colonies? I have just arrived from the Gold Coast and we have been using sweet potatoes for months. They grow wild there, and I believe they could be gathered and sent to port of embarkation for 2s. per bag of 50lb., and some thousands of tons could be received in England in two months.

GOLD COAST.

IN MY GARDEN.

MARCH 13.—It is a pity fibrets and cobnuts are not oftener found growing in large gardens, for they are quite easy to cultivate, and do well in almost any soil. They need not be given choice positions; set them in odd corners, between orchard trees, and in half-shady places, where vegetables would not prove successful. There is still just time to plant out and other fruit trees, but the work should be finished without delay. Kentish cob is a good variety.

E. F. T.

"ole. I'll show you the way." "Down there," and he pointed to a nasty black hole with the top of a ladder showing in the dim light.

I had hardly gone about six steps before I was met by a perfect blast of profane language. I stopped, one foot suspended in the air and, looking down, saw just underneath it a face which was still saying awful things.

"Oh, it's you," it said, as it recognised my face. "You want to get the war over quick, don't yer? Blimey, you want to be a bit more careful coming down these ladders; you ain't coming down from the top of a bus now."

I continued my way, sobered in spirit, down many flights of ladders.

I had arrived at last at the bottom, when my guide pointed through a water-tight door to see yer." "Righto," sounded faintly in the distance. "Tell 'im to 'ang on a minute."

Presently George arrived, a large man in a dirty overall suit.

We went round to the other end of the boilers, where we stopped, and he looked me up and down. "What was you afore you joined, Towney? Drove a pen, did yer? I bet you was all right slashing a pen about up in London, 'ard on the seats of your trousers, though, wasn't it? See 'ow you get on slashing this 'ere alic about," and he tapped it with his foot. "I want them firs raked out."

A slice is the stokehold equivalent of the domestic poker with a wedge shaped end, but is about 12ft. long and weighs 60lb.

I laboured with this hideous instrument loosening the clinker and ash in the furnace, breathing heavily and perspiring freely meanwhile. After this had been done it remained to rake the furnace clear, a still harder job.

The petty officer looked on smilingly, and, when I smashed my finger against the furnace door remarked that he had seen it coming off. I leaned against the rake while the perspiration trickled into my eyes and mouth.

"What did you want to join for?" said the petty officer. "Was it to get a 'ove? My blooming oath you'll get a smashing fine 'ome on this ship. I suppose you wanted to get a cheap sea trip for nothing, like I did ten year ago. They'll break your bloomin' 'art if you ain't careful."

I said I would try to take especial care with my 'art, and asked if there was any chance of getting a drink of water meanwhile . . .

AROUND PARLIAMENT SQUARE.

Five Premiers stand in Parliament Square,
And all mishaps have they witnessed there,
Watching the traffic go by:
For Parliament Square is a busy place,
Where vehicles pass at a rapid pace
And numerous dangers lie.

Peel, on the north, looks towards Whitehall,
At a corner where accidents befall;
So cross by the refuge there!
Beaconsfield, dressed in his robes of state,
Stands on the south, near St. Margaret's gate,
At a byway quiet and clear.

Derby and Palmerston face Palace Yard,
And all who cross there should be on their guard
Gainst motor-cars rushing by.
Where Canning keeps watch on the western side
The traffic goes by in a surging tide:
So cross with vigilant eye!

Near Parliament Square in days of old
A Sanctuary stood, where men manifold
"People did Safety find;
And sanctuary can still be found,
If people crossing the streets around
Will bear SAFETY FIRST in mind.

REJECTED FOR SERVICE ON ACCOUNT OF RUPTURE?

Mr. J. E. C. SMITH.

Many have been rejected for this reason, and yet their services MAY BE REQUIRED in home defence. Many are doing hero's work, remaining home to aid in supplying equipment for our armies. The strain is equally severe on all. It behoves every man to put himself in the best possible condition to meet any emergency that may arise. He should keep his body well and strong. If he is ruptured he should not be content to wear a make-shift truss, but he should have his rupture cured at once and for all—and he should see that his wife and children should also be freed from this malady if they are afflicted. Hundreds of men, women and children have been completely cured of rupture at home, without pain, operation or loss of time from work by following the method perfected by the now famous specialist, Wm. S. Rice. His method consists in repairing the broken torn muscles and restore them to normal condition and strength.

Sapper John E. C. Smith, 88088 (formerly of Ealand, Crowle, Co. Doncaster), who was cured of a scrotal rupture and passed the doctor for Overseas Service.

Mr. C. Westwood, No. 4821, No. 9 Advance Remounts Depot, A.S.C., British Expeditionary Force, France (formerly of Watlington), who went to the Front in December, 1914.

Driver A. H. Moss, 82, Maypole Road, Plough Road, Battersea, S.W., was cured of a severe scrotal rupture from birth and has joined the Royal Field Artillery.

Gunner F. Buge, Left Section, R.M.B., Royal Garrison Artillery, Invergoron, Ross, was cured 18 months ago, passed several doctors and enlisted.

Mr. W. S. Morgan, Co. 2, M. Sgt., N.C.O.'s Mess, Royal Engineers, Aldershot, writes: "I thought the treatment would interfere with my duties as a mounted man, but it did not, and I am completely cured."

Soldiers and sailors in our own service as well as in the service of our Ally, France, are now in the fighting line because they have been cured of Rupture by the Rice Method.

For IMMEDIATE RELIEF and benefit of sufferers from rupture, we have arranged for a Demonstration to be sent Free, and

A SPECIAL PROPOSAL will be made to all who were rejected for service on account of being ruptured.

To-Night's Cotton Debate.

EVERY M.P. I met in the lobby of the House of Commons last night was speculating upon the outcome of to-night's debate on India's cotton duties. If the ex-Prime Minister should give the signal to the Free Trade members to go into the lobby against the Government—and he would certainly be supported by the Nationalists—the life of the Government might be imperilled. Such a course of action, however, is inconceivable.

Mr. Asquith's Attitude.

IT IS as certain as anything can be that Mr. Asquith would not undertake so great a responsibility. The Liberal leaders who are now in opposition have evinced no sign of hostility to the new Government, although at the moment of writing the question of opposing the new duties is being carefully considered. The majority of Mr. Asquith's men are, I am told, in favour of the postponement of the whole subject until after the war.

Cotting Ready.

A LARGE SUPPLY of eggs has arrived from Canada. There has been some talk of a general election, hasn't there?

"Time, Gentlemen!"

LAST NIGHT, for the first time, M.P.s found themselves unable to get alcoholic refreshment except during the legal hours observed at houses outside the Palace of Westminster. They also, for the first time, came under the ban regarding treating. I hear that one of the expected results of the new order is a considerable increase in the consumption of coffee, which can, of course, be supplied at all hours.

Better—But!

MR. ANDREW FISHER, Australia's High Commissioner, has sufficiently recovered from his illness to go to Australia House again. At the same time he is not well enough to answer the questions inquisitive people would like to ask him about the Dardanelles Commission, and I doubt if he ever will be.

Measles and Millions.

THERE IS an epidemic of measles, and the Bank of England has been hit. A number of clerks have caught it. Although in normal times they enjoy a certain social distinction through their association (however remote) with millions, their friends now do not visit them.

The Turkey Carpet.

WITH THE FALL of Bagdad we gather that the Ottoman is getting to look more like a doormat every day.

Sir Henry Norman.

HERE IS a photograph of Sir Henry Norman, one of the members for Blackburn, who will take a prominent part in the House of Commons to-night in opposing the new cotton duties. Blackburn, like other Lancashire industrial centres, is vitally interested in the question, and Sir Henry is just the man to present the case for his constituents in the most approved parliamentary fashion.

A Many-Sided Man.

SIR HENRY, a tall, broad-shouldered man of dark complexion, is an excellent speaker, quiet, impressive, lucid and business-like. He has travelled practically all over the world, written on a multitude of subjects, and finds relaxation in the spheres of automobilism, mechanics, electricity and wireless telegraphy.

Sir Henry Norman.

TO-DAY'S GOSSIP

News and Views About Men, Women, and Affairs in General

Smuts at the Savoy.

WHAT A STIR General Smuts made at the Savoy yesterday! The sweet young things who trill choruses for us in the evenings were quite excited over the General's spruce appearance.

All Admired.

HE STOOD in the vestibule talking to some officers, the admired of all admirers. No one seemed to regard him with greater interest than the Duke of Orleans.

Cabinet Potatoes.

I WENT on myself to meet a friend at lunch at the Carlton. At the next table were seated Mr. Bonar Law and Sir Albert Stanley. No, it was not a potatoless lunch. Mondays and Wednesdays are potatoless days at the Carlton.

Girls Not Forgotten.

MANY OF THOSE PEOPLE who have turned their gardens into vegetable plots keep one terrace for flowers to supply the hospitals. The Countess of Plymouth sends several dozen boxes every week to hospitals, concert-rooms and to the Lady Workers' Club. From Lord Kensington's sister, Mrs. Koe, come big boxes of daffodils to the same club.

Six Fighting Brothers.

TWO ENTHUSIASTIC war workers are the Misses Edith and Beatrice Picton-Tuberville, who are doing national service in caring for girl munition workers. They are the daughters of Colonel Picton-Tuberville, a Glamorgan squire, of Ewenny Priory, and they have six brothers holding commissions in the Army.

A Farce Season.

AT THE SAVOY yesterday I met Mr. Max Pemberton. He had been delighted to welcome his son back for a few brief hours from French trench mud.

Mr. Max Pemberton.

Mr. Pemberton tells me he is very keen on initiating a series of farces at a London theatre.

Of the Moment.

"I BELIEVE in farce," said Mr. Pemberton, "because audiences are anxious at the present moment to laugh. Besides, it is a cheap form of production that should please Mr. Chamberlain." And now, you boys, look out for a thrilling story from "M. P." on "The Iron Pirate" model this autumn.

A Quick Luncheon.

SIR ARCHIBALD BOKKIN is evidently cultivating the quick-luncheon habit. I saw him yesterday morning in the buffet of an hotel near the Strand, and conveniently close to the Law Courts. He was lunching. His lunch consisted of—a ham sandwich!

Another Filmed Novel.

MR. W. J. LOCKE'S NOVEL, "Derelicts," is the latest work of fiction to be filmed. Yesterday afternoon I turned into the Alhambra, where a private view of the new production was being given. It was, I thought, a fine presentation of a dramatic story.

Birthday Presents—1917.

THIS IS a severely practical and economical age, as a suburban friend has reason to believe. It was his birthday yesterday, and his wife presented to him fourteen pounds of seed potatoes and a miscellaneous collection of vegetable seeds and implements with which to convert the lawn into a fruitful oasis.

Postponed.

RITA was telling me that she is in a dilemma over her new book, "The Rubbish Heap." It has been published in America, but owing to war regulations affecting copyright cannot be brought out in London for the present.

"Blizziness."

WE READ of a battle in a blizzard on the western front and of the hardships endured bravely by our troops. Blizziness as usual.

On the Scent.

A MAN in the perfumery trade complained to his tribunal that he could only make £50 per year. How much per cent?

A Busy Day.

I THINK Miss Lilian Braithwaite deserved a special cheer for reciting both at an afternoon and at an evening charity concert on Sunday after having travelled from Birmingham in the morning after playing in "General Post" for a week in that town.

The Mother's Part.

IN THIS PLAY, by Mr. Harold Terry, which is to be produced at the Haymarket to-night, I hear that the mother's part has been assigned to Miss Braithwaite, and Miss Madge Titheradge is to play the part of the wittily-sarcastic daughter.

Miss Madge Titheradge.

In "Vanity Fair."

"VANITY FAIR," at the Palace, on Monday, was all the brighter for the return of Mr. Arthur Playfair. During his absence his understudy had a lively experience. He made a very effective entrance in the Playfair clothes. He quite looked the part, and the audience applauded.

Jumbo's Turn.

BUT THE Playfair bulldog Jumbo, who was on Admiral Jellicoe's flagship in the Jutland battle, is also playing a part in "Vanity Fair." He saw a stranger in his master's clothes and "went for" him with British promptitude. There were no casualties except to the clothes.

The Farcical Teuton.

FROM A PRISONER interned near London Mr. Alfred Butt has received a letter offering him a play "of a purely farcical nature." It could," he writes, "be inexpensively mounted—only one set being required for the three acts." In conclusion, he offers to send Mr. Butt the script "subject to the commandant's consent."

Nothing New.

"OUR NEWEST bread order is stale," said a weary-looking pessimist to me yesterday.

Shackleton, the Poet.

I SEE that Sir Ernest Shackleton has announced his intention of going to the front. By the way, did you know that Sir Ernest is a poet? Well, he is, and I fancy he is prouder of his poetical than of his polar exploits. I remember once driving in a taxicab with the explorer along Regent-street and Pall Mall. He improved the occasion by reciting to me, with evident gusto, one of his own poems.

Hermes.

WHO IS the author of "The Hornets"? This little book of air service stories has caused a sensation in air circles. The author calls himself "Hermes."

The Literary Outlook.

I MET Mr. J. B. Pinder, the literary agent, yesterday morning, and found him undismayed by war and paper shortages. The literary outlook, he said, is fair to middling for the autumn (the literary autumn begins in June), but unknown authors will find publishers shy.

"A Little Lump of Sugar."

THERE IS a BARBER in the Croydon district who has practical ideas of patriotism. He is giving a lump of sugar to every man who gets shaved and a potato for every haircut! The practice suggests amusing possibilities.

Chin-Labour.

MY SYMPATHIES go out to the obedient husband who is forced to indulge in half a dozen shaves a day and a couple of haircuts ("not short, please") every evening. I do not know what the Croydon potato tariff is for a shampoo and a face massage, but this might save unnecessary labour on the part of overworked and potato scraped chins.

Deformed Spelling.

THE VAGARIES of the stenographer are sometimes amusing. A friend with a studio in Hampstead reports that he received a letter which the typist had addressed to "3, — Studious." THE RAMBLER.

MOTHERS, DO THIS—

WHEN THE CHILDREN COUGH,
RUB ST. JACOBS OIL ON THROATS AND CHESTS.

No telling how soon the symptoms may develop, if neglected, into croup or pneumonia. You will never regret having that bottle of old, honest St. Jacobs Oil handy. The moment you use it, it quickly loosens up coughs and colds in throat or chest—instant relief from pain, soreness or stiffness follows.

As first-aid and a certain remedy for Chest Colds, Sore Throat, Bruises, Backache, etc., there's nothing like St. Jacobs Oil. Thousands of mothers know this.

It is the remedy for grown-ups too. Rub the soothing, penetrating Oil wherever the pain is, and relief comes like magic. Get a small bottle from your chemist to-day.—(Advt.)

THE GIRL WHO COMPLAINS.

A girl can grow too quickly. In her teens she should be passing smoothly from girlhood to womanhood. She needs all her blood for development.

One north-country mother had a daughter of fourteen, whom everyone turned to look at. She was tall, straight and beautiful. All the neighbours praised her good looks and charming ways. But at home, where there was only her mother to see, she was pettish, excitable, and restless. She could not sit still. She had a poor appetite—except for sweets. Instead of being happy to lend a hand in the house, she was languid and tired, trailing upstairs with a hand on her back. Soon there began to be days when she could not get up. Her cheeks and lips were pale, and she was out of breath after the least climb.

Someone said to her mother, "That girl is anemic. She is making bone instead of blood. If you let her go on, you will have an invalid on your hands. Give her Dr. Williams' pink pills for pale people; they have saved many a girl in that state." The mother took the hint and in a little while she had her reward—a healthy daughter, who was a promising woman. Take the hint yourself and begin Dr. Williams' pink pills to-day.

The little book, "Plain Talks to Women" (free from Hints Dept., 46 Holborn Viaduct, London), tells women of all ages how to be well; send a post card for it.—(Advt.)

ACTRESS TELLS SECRET.

A Well-known Actress Tells How She Darkened Her Grey Hair With a Simple Home-made Mixture.

Miss Blanche Rose, a well-known actress, who darkened her grey hair with a simple preparation which she mixed at home, in a recent interview, made the following statement:—"Any lady or gentleman can darken their grey hair and make it soft and glossy with this simple recipe, which they can mix at home. To a half-pint of water add 1 oz. of bay rum and a small box of Orlex Compound. These ingredients can be bought at any chemists at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until it becomes the required shade. This will make a grey-haired person look 20 years younger. It is also fine to promote the growth of hair, and relieves itching and dandruff.—(Advt.)

SUPERFLUOUS HAIR.

Let Me Prove Free How I Cured All Trace of My Awful Growths, Without Pain or Injury, For Ever, Root and All.

For years I was in despair because of a hideous growth of Superfluous Hair. I had a regular mousetrap and beard and a hairy covering on my arms. After seeking relief for years—in vain, I secured through my husband, a surgeon and an Officer in the British Army, a closely-guarded secret of the Hindoo Religion, which had made Superfluous Hair unknown among the native women of India—a fact which is well known. It was so successful in my own case that I no longer have the slightest trace of Superfluous Hair, and I shall be glad to send Free to anyone full information to completely destroy all trace of hair, root and all, without having to resort to the dangerous depilatory preparations, and write to me to-day, giving your name and address, stating whether Mrs. Miss. All I ask is that you send me two penny stamps to cover my outlay for posting.—Address: Frederica Hudson, Suite 103B, No. 9, Old Cavendish-street, London, W.

Don't be neglected on account of your superfluous hair. Banish it.

IMPORTANT NOTE—Mrs. Hudson belongs to a family long in Society, and is the widow of a prominent officer in the British Army, so you can write her with entire confidence.—Address as above.—(Advt.)

DO NOT GO TO BED ILL WITH A RUPTURE.

You Can Cure Yourself.

All the important discoveries in connection with the Healing Art are not made by professional medical men. There are exceptions, and one of these is the truly wonderful discovery made by an astute and clever old Sea Captain—Captain Collings. After suffering himself for a great many years from a double rupture, which the doctors said was incurable, he decided, rather than give way to absolute despair, to devote all his time and energies to try to discover a cure for himself. After making all sorts of investigations, reading numerous works on rupture, etc., he made himself practically a rupture specialist without finding what he needed, until, quite by accident, he stumbled across the very thing he had been looking for so long, and not only was he able to completely cure himself with it, but his discovery was tested over and over again on all sorts of rupture cases, with the result that they were absolutely cured, and the sufferers knew the joy once more of perfect health and the glorious freedom of going about without a truss. Possibly you may have read about this wonderful cure in the newspapers. If you have not, you will be glad to learn that Captain Collings offers to send to every sufferer from rupture full particulars of his marvellous discovery free of charge, so that they can cure themselves as he and hundreds of others have been cured.

The nature of this wonderful cure is so simple that it is effected without pain or inconvenience. The ordinary occupations of life can be followed whilst it is acting, and it completely CURES—not merely relieves—so that trusses are no longer needed, the risk of surgical operations is abolished, and the affected part becomes as sound and as strong as ever it was before.

Arrangements have been made so that all readers of this paper suffering from rupture will be supplied with full particulars of this invaluable discovery without cost, and it is to be hoped that all who need it will avail themselves of this generous offer. Simply fill in and post the attached coupon, addressed as indicated, and the free test will reach you a few hours afterwards.

WIDOW CHAUFFEUR.

Prefers Motor - Car Driving to Omnibus Conducting.

"YOU WON'T DRIVE ME."

A woman applied to Judge Sir William Sefc at West London yesterday for payment out of a compensation award for the death of her husband of a sum of money to enable her to learn to drive a motor-car.

She said that she had been an omnibus conductor and had earned 35s. a week, but she wished to learn to drive a motor-car and act as chauffeur to officers, etc. It would cost over £4 to learn.

The Judge: But do you know that if you go to get a licence every taxicab man is going to strike?

Applicant: That only refers to taxicab-drivers. I want to drive a private car. It will be very much better work than an omnibus conductor. I really cannot put up with the standing.

The Judge: But they give you a nice little seat. The Woman: Yes, but without any time for sitting on it. (Laughter.)

The Judge pointed out to the woman that chauffeurs had to clean cars and do such things, but she was undeterred.

The Judge: I will give you the opportunity to drive officers, but I assure you that you will not drive me. You may have six guineas.

COLWALL PARK RACING.

Programme and Selections for Opening Day of Meeting.

Colwall Park, in Herefordshire, is a long run for all-road racing, and doubtless the best support for the meeting, which commences there to-day, will come from the Midlands and West, especially as, owing to arrangements made last week, the Windsor meeting, postponed from Friday and Saturday, will take place at the Royal Borough this week-end.

Modest programmes have been arranged for Colwall Park, but some good horses hold engagements, and sport should be quite interesting. My selections are:—

12.45.—GLATZ.
1.15.—SENSITIVE.
2.0.—HOLLINS LANE.

2.30.—HARTSTOWN.
3.0.—STAG'S HEAD.

Colds, Influenza,

Bronchitis and All Chest Affections.

Prescribed by the medical profession for twenty-five years, Angier's Emulsion is universally recognised as a standard approved treatment for colds, coughs, bronchitis, influenza, asthma, consumption, and for all catarrhal affections of the respiratory or digestive organs. Angier's Emulsion is soothing and healing, and has a most invigorating, tonic influence upon the general health. Equally useful for children and adults, it is an invaluable household remedy for chest and lung affections.

A Doctor writes:—"I prescribe Angier's Emulsion and find it of great use in respiratory diseases. It is particularly valuable in ordinary colds, and if taken in time I believe that it prevents the extension of the catarrh to the lungs, saving cough and bronchitis, and counteracting any tendency to consumption. I let two of my own children take it at the present time." (Signed) — J.S.A.

Marvellous Results!

To-day, when everyone is urged to do the utmost in the country's cause, and while overwork or anxiety make it difficult or impossible, the following words of a well-known medical man are remarkable:

"When vitality is low or nerves are shattered"—he says—"Hall's Wine is invaluable." Thousands of doctors and countless patients have testified to the marvellous results of Hall's Wine.

By feeding the nerves and enriching the blood, Hall's Wine gives a wonderful feeling of health and strength—petty worries cease to annoy, insomnia, depression and fretfulness disappear.
